

New World Leaders Portfolio (LDRS)

One way to gain exposure in emerging markets without investing directly in those local markets is through the investment in developed market multi-national mega-cap companies with established businesses in these markets. Invesco Unit Trusts now offers a timely investment opportunity that does just that, the New World Leaders Portfolio.

Objective

Invesco Unit Trusts offers a portfolio that seeks to provide current income and the potential for capital appreciation by investing in a portfolio of domestic stocks and American Depository Receipts (“ADRs”) of leading global companies.

New World Leaders Portfolio—Individual Series

Performance quoted is from the trust's deposit date through the trust's termination date. For trusts that have not yet terminated, performance is quoted from the trust's deposit date through 11/28/14.

* Trust is no longer offered for sale.

Performance data quoted represents past performance, which is no guarantee of future results. Investment returns and principal value will fluctuate and units, when redeemed, may be worth more or less than their original cost. Furthermore, current performance for these series may be lower or higher than the performance data quoted. Current performance information is available at www.invesco.com/uit.

“LDRS With Max Sales Charge” reflects the maximum transactional sales charge that would be payable by an investor upon sale or redemption of units at the end of the applicable period(s). The maximum transactional sales charge of 2.95% consists of a 1% initial sales charge, a deferred sales charge of $0.145 per unit and a creation and development fee of $0.05 per unit.

“LDRS Without Sales Charge” does not reflect any transactional sales charge and does not reflect any creation and development fee prior to collection (generally the close of the initial offering period). Any creation and development fee is reflected in the returns as of the time of payment by a trust.

Returns are cumulative total returns (not annualized) and reflect trust expenses as incurred and assume reinvestment of income and principal distributions, except for trusts that do not offer the option of reinvesting distributions into additional trust units. Please see the related trust prospectus for additional information. Returns do not reflect taxes.

Please keep in mind that high, double-digit and/or triple-digit returns are highly unusual and cannot be sustained.

Selection Process:Universe: S&P 500 companies and ADRs

- 1. Segment Analysis. Analyze company financial statements and reports to assess the exposure to foreign markets and emerging markets.
- 2. Dividend Analysis. Focus on attractive yields from companies with healthy dividend payout ratios, earnings growth estimates and margins to sustain the dividend.
- 3. Sector Representation. Since much of the GDP growth in Emerging Markets is tied to the increasing impact of the emerging market consumer, each current outstanding series of the Portfolio, and each future series is anticipated to be, concentrated in the consumer staples sector. Please refer to the prospectus for each series for information regarding specific sector representation.
4. Approximate equal-weighted across all 30 securities.
5. 70% U.S. equities and 30% ADRs, diversified across multiple sectors.

For Illustrative Purposes Only

Diversification does not ensure a profit or eliminate the risk of loss. There can be no guarantee or assurance that companies will declare dividends in the future or that if declared, they will remain at current levels or increase over time.

Contact us

Please contact your Financial Advisor for more information. For unit trust pricing please visit invesco.com/uit

Explore Intentional Investing with Invesco®About risk (LDRS)

There is no assurance the trust will achieve its investment objective. An investment in this unit investment trust is subject to market risk, which is the possibility that the market values of securities owned by the trust will decline and that the value of trust units may therefore be less than what you paid for them. This trust is unmanaged and its portfolio is not intended to change during the trust's life except in limited circumstances. Accordingly, you can lose money investing in this trust.

This trust is concentrated in the consumer discretionary and consumer staples sectors. Companies in these sectors face risks such as intense competition, the lack of serious barriers to entry for on-line entrants, economic recession and a slowdown in consumer spending trends.

Common stocks do not assure dividend payments. Dividends are paid only when declared by an issuer's board of directors and the amount of any dividend may vary over time.

Investing in foreign securities involves certain risks not typically associated with investing solely in the United States. This may magnify volatility due to changes in foreign exchange rates, the political and economic uncertainties in foreign countries, and the potential lack of liquidity, government supervision and regulation.

FOR US USE ONLY

NOT FDIC INSURED | MAY LOSE VALUE | NO BANK GUARANTEE

Before investing, investors should carefully read the prospectus and consider the investment objectives, risks, charges and expenses. For this and more complete information about the trust, investors should ask their advisor(s) for a prospectus or download one at invesco.com/uit.

Invesco's history of offering unit investment trusts began with the acquisition of the sponsor by Invesco Ltd. in June 2010. Invesco unit investment trusts are distributed by the sponsor, Invesco Capital Markets, Inc. and broker dealers including Invesco Distributors, Inc. Both firms are indirect, wholly owned subsidiaries of Invesco Ltd.