Invesco Variable Rate Preferred Shares UCITS ETF Acc

VPAC

Fund objective

The Invesco Variable Rate Preferred Shares UCITS ETF Acc aims to track the net total return performance of the ICE Diversified Variable Rate Preferred & Hybrid Securities Index, less fees.

An investment in this fund is an acquisition of units in a passively managed, index tracking fund rather than in the underlying assets owned by the fund.

Risk indicator

The Risk Indicator is subject to change and is correct based on the data available at the time of publication.

¹ Ongoing charge includes management fee, custody and administration costs but excludes transaction costs. Costs may increase or decrease as result of currency and exchange rate fluctuations. Consult the legal documents for further information on costs.

Investment risks

For complete information on risks, refer to the legal documents. The value of investments will fluctuate and you may not get back the full amount invested. Changes in interest rates will result in fluctuations in the value of the fund. The Fund may be exposed to the risk of the borrower defaulting on its obligation to return the securities at the end of the loan period and of being unable to sell the collateral provided to it if the borrower defaults. The value of equities can be affected by certain factors such as issuer's circumstances or economic and market conditions. This may result in value fluctuations. The value of Preferred securities can be affected by a number of factors including the activities and results of the issuer and general and regional economic and market conditions. This may result in fluctuations in the value of the Fund. An issuer of preferred securities is permitted to defer or omit distributions for a certain period of time which may result in substantial loss of value. Preferred securities can also be issued as perpetual bonds (i.e. bonds without a maturity date). There is no guarantee that the issue will be called on its specified call date or at all, resulting in the Fund not receiving the return of the principal at any date. The risks of a particular hybrid security will depend upon the terms of the instrument and may include credit risk, liquidity risk and potentially greater fluctuations in the value of the Fund as compared against traditional equity securities. They can also be issued as perpetual bonds (i.e. bonds without a maturity date). There is no guarantee that the issue will be called on its specified call date or at all, resulting in the Fund not receiving the return of the principal at any date.

About the index

The ICE Diversified Variable Rate Preferred & Hybrid Securities Index is designed to track the performance of floating and variable rate investment grade and sub-investment grade U.S. dollar-denominated preferred and hybrid securities (debt securities with equity features) publicly issued by corporations in the U.S. domestic market. Index constituents are market capitalisation weighted subject to a 10% issuer cap. Securities must have a par value of $25 or $1000, securities with a $1000 par value must be rated by at least one of Moody's, S&P or Fitch and those rated below investment grade based on an average of available ratings must also have a country of risk associated with a developed markets country. The Fund and the Index are rebalanced and reconstituted on a monthly basis."

Source: Invesco, Bloomberg L.P., FactSet. ETF performance shown is calculated with reference to the Net Asset Value, inclusive of net reinvested income and net of ongoing charges and portfolio transaction costs, in USD. The figures do not reflect the actual share price, the impact of the bid/offer spread or broker commissions. Returns may increase or decrease as a result of currency fluctuations. ETF NAV performance differs from that of the index due to the ongoing charges and portfolio transaction costs and due to the fact that the ETF does not necessarily always hold all the securities in the index in their respective weighting. This ETF does not charge an entry fee.

Index performance is a blend of the reference indices. Since inception until 30 June 2021, the Fund was managed with reference to the Wells Fargo Hybrid and Preferred Securities Floating and Variable Rate Index. From 30 June 2021, the Fund is managed with reference to the ICE Diversified Variable Rates Preferred & Hybrid Securities Total Return Index.
