

Invesco wins CFI.co Award

Published Oct. 12, 2020

Invesco is proud to have won the CFI.co – Capital Finance International Responsible Investing Awards 2020 for Best ESG Responsible Investment Expert - United States 2020.

Here is some information from the judges' report (edited for brevity):

“Independent investment company Invesco celebrates the energy and advancements building in ESG. The firm views the stewardship of clients’ assets as sacrosanct – and uses ESG as a focus to amplify returns while creating positive impacts for people and planet. Responsible investing is embedded throughout Invesco’s global network...Invesco ensures that its practice-what-you-preach ethos can be verified through transparent and documented resources. ESG performance is reported across asset classes to help clients align investment with a desire for positive change in the world...Stakeholders in the Invesco community understand the logic and longevity of sustainability and investors increasingly look to future-proof their portfolio with proven ESG strategies... The CFI.co judging panel presents Invesco with the 2020 award for Best ESG Responsible Investment Expert (United States).”

For more information, click here.

Any reference to an award is not a guarantee of investment performance and is not constant over time.