

Chris Kelly, CFA®

Senior Portfolio Manager

Chris Kelly, CFA®

Chris Kelly is a Team Leader for the Global Debt team and a Senior Portfolio Manager for the International Bond, Global Strategic Income, and Global High Yield strategies. His primary responsibilities are in global credit strategy.

Mr. Kelly joined Invesco when the firm combined with OppenheimerFunds in 2019. Before joining OppenheimerFunds, Mr. Kelly was at BlackRock, where he was deputy head of emerging markets fixed income with responsibilities for emerging market (EM) credit (quasi-sovereigns, corporates, and banks). Prior to BlackRock, Mr. Kelly was deputy chief investment officer of emerging markets and a portfolio manager on the emerging markets debt team at BNP Paribas with a focus on EM credit and regional research coverage of Europe, the Middle East, and Africa. Previously, Mr. Kelly worked at Credit Suisse Asset Management as a portfolio manager, and at Citigroup where he was an EM credit analyst.

Mr. Kelly earned a BA degree from Macalester College and a master's degree in international affairs from Columbia University. He is a Chartered Financial Analyst® (CFA) charterholder.