Investment risks

There are risks involved with investing in ETFs, including possible loss of money. Shares are not actively managed and are subject to risks similar to those of stocks, including those regarding short selling and margin maintenance requirements. Ordinary brokerage commissions apply. The Fund's return may not match the return of the Underlying Index. The Fund is subject to certain other risks. Please see the current prospectus for more information regarding the risk associated with an investment in the Fund.

Stocks of medium-sized companies tend to be more vulnerable to adverse developments, may be more volatile, and may be illiquid or restricted as to resale.

Investments focused in a particular sector, such as energy, are subject to greater risk, and are more greatly impacted by market volatility, than more diversified investments.

Because the Fund may invest in other investment companies, including ETFs and closed-end funds, it's subject to the risks associated with that investment company, including the potential for loss of value of the underlying securities held by the investment company or may become illiquid. The Fund will indirectly pay a proportional share of the fees and expenses of the investment companies in which it invests. ETF or closed-end fund shares may trade at a discount or premium relative to the NAV of its shares and the listing exchange may halt trading of the ETF's or closed-end fund's shares.
