About risk

There are risks involved with investing in ETFs, including possible loss of money. Shares are not actively managed and are subject to risks similar to those of stocks, including those regarding short selling and margin maintenance requirements. Ordinary brokerage commissions apply. The Fund's return may not match the return of the Underlying Index. The Fund is subject to certain other risks. Please see the current prospectus for more information regarding the risk associated with an investment in the Fund.

Investments focused in a particular industry or sector are subject to greater risk, and are more greatly impacted by market volatility, than more diversified investments.

Certain risks are inherent when investing in listed private equity companies, such as BDCs, other financial institutions or vehicles whose principal business is to invest in and lend capital to, or provide services to privately held companies. Little public information exists for private and thinly traded companies, and there risk that investors may not be able to make a fully informed investment decisions or that the issuer may default on its payments or declare bankruptcy. BDCs tend to invest in less mature private companies, which involve greater risk than well-established, publicly-traded companies.

A significant portion of the Underlying Index is composed of BDCs or other investment companies. The Fund may not acquire greater than 3% of the total outstanding shares of such companies. As a result, the Fund would be required to use sampling techniques, which could increase the risk of tracking error.

An MLP is an entity classified as a partnership under the Internal Revenue Code, and whose partnership interests or "units" are traded on exchanges like common stock. Investments in MLPs units are subject to risks inherent in the MLP's structure, including tax and management risks.

The risks of investing in securities of foreign issuers can include fluctuations in foreign currencies, political and economic instability, and foreign taxation issues.

Stocks of small and mid-sized companies tend to be more vulnerable to adverse developments, may be more volatile, and may be illiquid or restricted as to resale.

Swaps involve greater risks than direct investments. Swaps are subject to leveraging, liquidity and counterparty risks, and therefore may be difficult to value. Adverse changes in the value or level of the swap can result in gains or losses that are substantially greater than invested, with the potential for unlimited loss.

The Intraday NAV is a symbol representing estimated fair value based on the most recent intraday price of underlying assets. Volatility is the annualized standard deviation of index returns. Beta is a measure of relative risk and the slope of regression. Sharpe Ratio is a risk-adjusted measure calculated using standard deviation and excess return to determine reward per unit of risk. A higher Sharpe Ratio indicates better risk-adjusted performance. Correlation indicates the degree to which two investments have historically moved in the same direction and magnitude. Alpha is a measure of performance on a risk-adjusted basis. Weighted Harmonic Average Stock Price-to-Earnings Ratio (P/E Ratio) is the share price divided by earnings per share. It is measured on a 12-month trailing basis. Weighted Harmonic Average Stock Price-to-Book-Value Ratio (P/B Ratio) is the ratio of a stock's market price to a company's net asset value. Weighted Harmonic Average is a method of calculating an average value that lessens the impact of large outliers and increases the impact of small ones. Weighted Average Return on Equity is net income divided by net worth. Weighted Market Capitalization is the sum of each underlying securities' market value. The 30-Day SEC Yield is based on a 30-day period and is computed by dividing the net investment income per share earned during the period by the maximum offering price per share on the last day of the period. The 30-Day SEC Unsubsidized Yield reflects the 30-day yield if the investment adviser were not waiving all or part of its fee or reimbursing the fund for part of its expenses. Total return would have also been lower in the absence of these temporary reimbursements or waivers.

Typically, security classifications used in calculating allocation tables are as of the last trading day of the previous month.
