* Represents the principal amount of the underlying bonds per unit as of the close of business on the trust's deposit date. Subsequently, bonds may be sold to meet redemptions, to pay expenses, and in other limited circumstances. The sale of bonds will affect the principal amount of bonds included in the trust and as a result the principal amount of bonds per unit. There can be no assurance that a unitholder will receive this par value per unit subsequent to the deposit date.

† Reflects the minimum credit quality of underlying securities in the portfolio as rated by S&P/Fitch and Moody's, when available. Rated bonds must have at least one such minimum credit rating for inclusion in the portfolio. Not all bonds are rated by both services. Although the bonds in the portfolio are rated at or above the minimum credit quality as of deposit date, each bond's rating may change after its inclusion in the trust. Please see page 4 for further credit rating disclosure.

1 These estimates are calculated as of the close of business on the deposit date and will vary thereafter. Estimated current return shows the estimated interest distributions you are scheduled to receive each year divided by the unit price. Estimated long term return shows the estimated return over the estimated life of the trust. We base this estimate on an average of the bond yields over their estimated life. Estimated long term return also reflects the sales charge and estimated expenses. The average yield for the portfolio is derived by weighting each bond's yield by its value and estimated life. Unlike estimated current return, estimated long term return accounts for maturities, discounts and premiums of the bonds. These estimates show a comparison rather than a prediction of returns. No return calculation can predict your actual return. Your actual return may vary from these estimates. The estimates relating to units held in "wrap fee" accounts will typically be higher due to applicable sales charge waivers, which are fully described in the prospectus. Current estimates are available at www.invesco.com/uit.

Objective

The trust seeks to provide a high level of current income and to preserve capital. The trust invests in a portfolio of high-yield corporate bonds maturing approximately 4 to 7 years from the Date of Deposit.

Portfolio diversification (% of par value)

(As of the opening of business on the deposit date)

Invesco helped pioneer the tax-exempt unit trust in 1976⁴. Since then, we have consistently offered fixed income trusts and now boast a large family of tax-exempt and taxable income trusts.

Over 5,400 fixed income unit trusts have deposited—with over $46 billion in initial deposits and more than $21 billion in income distributed to fixed income trust holders as of December 31, 2018.

Why consider the High Yield Corporate Trust, 4-7 Year Series?

Take advantage of a portfolio of taxable bonds through a convenient and efficient way of purchasing a professionally selected and diversified portfolio of high yield bonds.

- A defined and diversified portfolio of high yield corporates³
- Low minimum investment of one unit
- Suitable for tax sheltered vehicles like IRAs
- Higher yields than investment grade corporate bonds of similar maturities
- Provides diversification of taxable bonds

2 The amount is based on estimated cash flows per Unit and that the amount will vary with changes in expenses, interest rates and maturity, call or sale of bonds.

3 The bonds in the portfolio are generally rated CCC- or higher by Standard & Poor's/Fitch or Caa3 by Moody's as of the deposit date.

About risk

There is no assurance that a unit investment trust will achieve its investment objective. An investment in this unit trust is subject to market risk, which is the possibility that the market values of securities owned by the trust will decline and that the value of trust units may therefore be less than what you paid for them. This trust is unmanaged. Accordingly, you can lose money investing in this trust. An investment in a trust should be made with the understanding of the risks associated therewith, such as the inability of the issuer or an insurer to pay the principal or interest on a bond when due, volatile interest rates, early call provisions and changes to the tax status of the bonds.

The value of the bonds will generally fall if interest rates, in general, rise. In a low interest rate environment risks associated with rising rates are heightened. The negative impact on fixed income securities from any interest rate increases could be swift and significant. No one can predict whether interest rates will rise or fall in the future.

During periods of market turbulence, corporate bonds may experience illiquidity and volatility. During such periods, there can be uncertainty in assessing the financial condition of an issuer. As a result, the ratings of the bonds in the Trust's portfolio may not accurately reflect an issuer's current financial condition, prospects, or the extent of the risks associated with investing in such issuer's securities.

Bonds of foreign issuers in present risks beyond those of U.S. issuers. These risks may include market and political factors related to an issuer's foreign market, international trade conditions, less regulation, smaller or less liquid markets, increased volatility, differing accounting practices and changes in the value of foreign currencies.

Although the underlying securities in the portfolio are rated at or above the minimum credit quality as of the date of deposit, the ratings may change after inclusion in the trust.

The trust invests in bonds rated below investment grade and are considered to be "junk" bonds. Bonds rated below "BBB-" by Standard & Poor's and Fitch, or below "Baa3" by Moody's, are considered to be below investment grade. These bonds are considered to be speculative and are subject to greater market and credit risks. Accordingly, the risk of default is higher than with investment grade bonds. In addition, these bonds may be more sensitive to interest rate changes and may be more likely to make early returns of principal. The trust's price per unit, yield and return may fluctuate more than in a trust consisting of investment grade bonds.

Certain of the bonds in the trust's portfolio are restricted securities that may be subject to enhanced liquidity risk. This is the risk that the value of a security will fall if trading in the security is limited or absent. Any bonds in the trust designated as "Rule 144A" securities are subject to resale restrictions. The value of trust units may decrease if there is a lack of a liquid market for these securities.

A credit rating is an assessment provided by a nationally recognized statistical rating organization (NRSRO) of the creditworthiness of an issuer with respect to debt obligations, including specific securities, money market instruments or other debts. Ratings are measured on a scale that generally ranges from AAA/Aaa (highest) to D/C (lowest); ratings are subject to change without notice. For more information on Standard and Poor's rating methodology, please visit www.standardandpoors.com and select 'Understanding Ratings' under Rating Resources on the homepage or Moody's at www.moodys.com and select 'Rating Methodologies' under Research and Ratings on the homepage.
