

Biography

Kristin Ketner Pak

Director, Equity Research

Kristin Ketner Pak is a Director of Equity Research for the Invesco Main Street team. In this role, she specializes in the consumer discretionary and consumer staples sectors across all of the Main Street team's strategies.

Ms. Ketner Pak joined Invesco when the firm combined with OppenheimerFunds in 2019. Before joining OppenheimerFunds in 2009, she was a consumer sector manager at RS Investments. Previously, she worked at Solstice Equity Management, managing long/short portfolios focused on the retail sector. Earlier in her career, she was a retail analyst at Goldman Sachs, with lead coverage for value retailers and natural food grocers. She also worked in the retail industry at Staples, where she served as director of strategy and integration. Ms. Ketner Pak began her career as an investment banker at both Merrill Lynch and Montgomery Securities.

Ms. Ketner Pak earned a BS degree in business administration with a concentration in finance from Indiana University and an MBA from Harvard Business School.