Daniel Saylor is Head of Commercial Mortgage-Backed Securities for the Invesco Fixed Income team. In this role, his primary responsibilities include evaluating, selecting and monitoring commercial mortgage-backed securities across institutional and retail fixed income funds, including Invesco Mortgage Capital, a public real estate investment trust externally managed by Invesco Fixed Income that is traded on the New York Stock Exchange. Mr. Saylor is also involved in identifying new investment strategies and creating related product offerings for Invesco Fixed Income. He also serves as a Portfolio Manager.

Mr. Saylor joined Invesco in 2010 as an analyst on the Structured Securities team. Prior to joining the firm, he spent more than two years at Fort Washington Investment Advisors, where he was an analyst on the residential mortgage-backed securities team. In this role, he was responsible for credit and market risk analysis, surveillance and other portfolio analytics across the prime and subprime spectrum.

Mr. Saylor earned a BS degree, magna cum laude, in business administration from Xavier University, where he majored in finance and minored in mathematics. He is a Chartered Financial Analyst® (CFA) charterholder.
