

Zachary Sacks

Portfolio Manager

Zachary Sacks is a Portfolio Manager for the Global Equity team at Invesco. In this role, he is dedicated to the International Value strategy. Additionally, Mr. Sacks serves as an Associate Portfolio Manager for the International Diversified strategy and as a Senior Research Analyst for the International Growth strategy.

Mr. Sacks joined Invesco when the firm combined with OppenheimerFunds in 2019. He previously served as an assistant vice president and senior research analyst on the Global Equity team at OppenheimerFunds. Before that, Mr. Sacks was an investment analyst at Waddell & Reed Investment Management Company covering Asia Internet, global luxury goods, and international retail industries. Previously, he worked as an investment analyst at Trilogy Global Advisors, LP, covering global financials and consumer staples.

Mr. Sacks earned a BS degree in economics from the Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania.