Please note that the withholding rate designation made above supersedes any previous designations. Your withholding election for this series of payments will remain on file with IIS. You may change or revoke your withholding election at anytime by contacting an Invesco Client Services representative. If you elect not to have withholding applied to your distributions, or if you do not have enough federal income tax withheld from your distributions, you may be responsible for payment of estimated tax. You may incur penalties under the estimated tax rules if your withholding and estimated tax payments are not sufficient.

In making the following selection, I attest that I am over age 59½ and invested in one of the eligible IRA account types, as specified above, and that I have read and understand the Withholding Notice above. Additional Information

Early Distribution: If you are taking an early distribution, the taxable amount of the distribution may be subject to federal income taxation as ordinary income and may be subject to an additional 10% penalty tax. In the case of a SIMPLE IRA, a 25% penalty tax may be imposed if two years have not elapsed since the date of initial funding. For more information regarding exceptions to the penalty tax, see IRS Publication 590-B.

Disability Distribution: Disability is defined in the Internal Revenue Code Section 72(m)(7) as being unable to engage in any substantial gainful activity by reason of medically determinable physical or mental impairment which can be expected to result in death or to be of long-continued and indefinite duration. By signing this Distribution Form and choosing Disability as the Type of Distribution in section 4B, you certify that you meet the requirements for a disability distribution.

Series of Substantially Equal Payments

- General: The 10% premature distribution penalty does not apply to taxable distributions that are part of a series of substantially equal payments using one of the IRS approved methods in section 4. The distribution must be at least annually over your life expectancy or the joint life expectancy of you and your beneficiary. If you modify your SEPP or distribute additional amounts prior to the later of 59½ or five years (other than by reason of death or disability), all taxable amounts withdrawn prior to age 59½ will be retroactively subject to 10% premature distribution tax, plus interest. IIS will report SEPP distributions as code 1, early distribution, on Form 1099-R. The account owner is responsible for filing Form 5329 with the IRS. We recommend you speak with a tax advisor regarding the consequences of a SEPP distribution.
- IRS approved methods: Required minimum distribution method determines the payment by dividing your January 1 account balance by your life expectancy factor (and eldest beneficiary's when using joint life expectancy) from any of the following IRS life expectancy tables: IRS Uniform Lifetime Table, IRS Single Life Expectancy Table, or IRS Joint Life Expectancy Table. Fixed amortization method determines the payment for each year by amortizing in level amounts your account balance over a specified number of years utilizing one of the IRS life expectancy tables and a reasonable interest rate. Fixed annuitization method determines the payment for each year by dividing your account balance by an annuity factor that is the present value of an annuity of $1 per day beginning at your age and continuing for the expectancy of your life or the joint lives of you and your eldest primary beneficiary. The annuity factor is derived using the mortality table provided in IRS Revenue Ruling 2002-62.
