Performance quoted is past performance and cannot guarantee comparable future results; current performance may be lower or higher. Visit invesco.com/performance for the most recent month-end performance. Performance figures reflect reinvested distributions and changes in net asset value (NAV). Investment return and principal value will vary, and you may have a gain or a loss when you sell shares. Class A shares at NAV are available only to certain investors and have no sales charge; therefore, performance is at NAV. Class Y shares have no sales charge; therefore, performance is at NAV. Class R shares have no sales charge; therefore, performance is at NAV. Class R5 shares have no sales charge; therefore, performance is at NAV. Returns less than one year are cumulative; all others are annualized. Performance shown prior to the inception date of Class R6 shares is that of Class A shares and includes the 12b-1 fees applicable to Class A shares. Class R6 shares have no sales charge; therefore, performance is at NAV. Fund performance reflects any applicable fee waivers and/or expense reimbursements. Had the adviser not waived fees and/or reimbursed expenses currently or in the past, returns would have been lower. See current prospectus for more information. Index returns do not reflect any fees, expenses, or sales charges.

Asset allocation/diversification does not guarantee a profit or eliminate the risk of loss.

A target date fund identifies a specific time at which investors are expected to begin making withdrawals, e.g., Now, 2020, 2030. The principal value of the fund is not guaranteed at any time, including at the target date.

Each fund is designed to follow a glide path that adjusts the underlying asset classes periodically to become more conservative - transitioning from a heavier weight in equities in earlier years to a focus on fixed income, alternatives and cash - as the stated target retirement date approaches.

The Custom Invesco Balanced-Risk Retirement 2050 Index was created by Invesco as the fund's benchmark. From the inception of the fund to Nov. 4, 2009, the index was the Custom Independence 2050 Index, which included the following indexes: Russell 3000, MSCI EAFE, FTSE NAREIT Equity REITs and Bloomberg Barclays U.S. Universal Index. From Nov. 4, 2009, through Nov. 30, 2009, the index was composed of MSCI World Index and JP Morgan Global Government Bond Index. Since Dec. 1, 2009, the index is composed of MSCI World Index and Bloomberg Barclays U.S. Aggregate Index. The composition of the index may change from time to time based upon the target allocation of the fund and will likely be altered in the future to better reflect the fund's objective. The Russell 3000 Index is a trademark/service mark of the Frank Russell Co. Russell® is a trademark of the Frank Russell Co. An investment cannot be made directly in an index.

About risk

Invesco Balanced-Risk Allocation Fund (IBRA), an underlying fund, will invest in commodities through a wholly-owned subsidiary of that underlying fund organized under the laws of the Cayman Islands (the Subsidiary). Commodities may subject an investor to greater volatility than traditional securities such as stocks and bonds and can fluctuate significantly based on weather, political, tax, and other regulatory and market developments.

An issuer may be unable to meet interest and/or principal payments, thereby causing its instruments to decrease in value and lowering the issuer's credit rating.

Derivatives may be more volatile and less liquid than traditional investments and are subject to market, interest rate, credit, leverage, counterparty and management risks. An investment in a derivative could lose more than the cash amount invested.

The risks of investing in securities of foreign issuers, including emerging markets, can include fluctuations in foreign currencies, political and economic instability, and foreign taxation issues.

The fund is subject to the risks of the underlying funds. Market fluctuations may change the target weightings in the underlying funds and certain factors may cause the fund to withdraw its investments therein at a disadvantageous time.

Interest rate risk refers to the risk that bond prices generally fall as interest rates rise and vice versa.

The fund is considered non-diversified and may experience greater volatility than a more diversified investment.

Short sales may cause an investor to repurchase a security at a higher price, causing a loss. As there is no limit on how much the price of the security can increase, exposure to potential loss is unlimited.

By investing in the subsidiary, IBRA is indirectly exposed to risks associated with the subsidiary's investments, including derivatives and commodities. Because the subsidiary is not registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940, IBRA will not have the protections offered to investors in US registered investment companies.

Underlying investments may appreciate or decrease significantly in value over short periods of time and cause an underlying fund's shares to experience significant volatility over short periods of time.

The fund is subject to certain other risks. Please see the current prospectus for more information regarding the risks associated with an investment in the fund.

Before investing, investors should carefully read the prospectus and/or summary prospectus and carefully consider the investment objectives, risks, charges and expenses. For this and more complete information about the fund(s), investors should ask their advisors for a prospectus/summary prospectus or visit invesco.com/fundprospectus.
