

Invesco S&P 500 Low Volatility Portfolio

CollegeBound 529 Unit Classes

Why invest in this portfolio

- 1 Factor focus.
The fund offers investors consistent, convenient access to the stocks in the parent index with the lowest volatility in the past twelve months.
- 2 Defensive positioning.
The fund provides the potential for upside participation and risk mitigation by investing in companies with historically low price volatility.
- 3 Dynamic exposure.
Unconstrained security and sector allocation allow for targeted factor exposure across varied market environments.

The performance quoted is past performance and is not a guarantee of future results. Investment returns and principal value of an investment will fluctuate so that an account owner's units, when redeemed, may be worth more or less than their original cost. Current performance may be higher or lower than the performance data shown. For up-to-date month-end performance information please call 877 615 4116, or visit collegebound529.com. Performance figures reflect reinvested distributions of the underlying security and changes in net asset value (NAV). No contingent deferred sales charge (CDSC) will be imposed on redemptions of Class C units following one year from the date units were purchased. Performance shown at NAV does not include applicable CDSC or front-end sales charges, which would have reduced the performance. Class I units have no sales charge; therefore, performance is at NAV. Class RA units have no sales charge; therefore, performance is at NAV. Returns less than one year are cumulative; all others are annualized. Index returns do not reflect any fees, expenses, or sales charges. Index source: Bloomberg L.P. Had fees not been waived and/or expenses reimbursed in the past, returns would have been lower.

Class I units are available only to certain investors.

Effective on or about June 25, 2021, Class RA and Class RZ units are closed to new investors. Existing Account Owners holding Class RA and Class RZ units are permitted to make additional investments in those classes, respectively.

See the Program Description for more information.

Invesco S&P 500 Low Volatility Index (USD) measures performance of the 100 least volatile stocks in the S&P 500. The index benchmarks low volatility or low variance strategies for the U.S. stock market. Constituents are weighted relative to the inverse of their corresponding volatility, with the least volatile stocks receiving the highest weights.

Please keep in mind that high, double-digit returns are highly unusual and cannot be sustained.

About Risk

Risks of the Underlying Holding

There are risks involved with investing in ETFs, including possible loss of money. Shares are not actively managed. The underlying ETF's return may not match the return of the ETF's Underlying Index. The underlying ETF is subject to certain other risks. Please see the current prospectus for more information regarding the risk associated with an investment in the underlying ETF.

There is no assurance that the Fund will provide low volatility.

Investments focused in a particular industry or sector are subject to greater risk, and are more greatly impacted by market volatility, than more diversified investments.

The Fund may become "non-diversified," as defined under the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended, solely as a result of a change in relative market capitalization or index weighting of one or more constituents of the Index. Shareholder approval will not be sought when the Fund crosses from diversified to non-diversified status under such circumstances.

The portfolio is subject to certain other risks. Please see the current Program Description for more information regarding the risks associated with an investment in the portfolio.

The underlying fund holdings are organized according to the Global Industry Classification Standard, which was developed by and is the exclusive property and service mark of MSCI Inc. and Standard & Poor's.
