Invesco Oppenheimer Emerging Markets Innovators Fund Announcement

Effective, September 13, 2019, Invesco Oppenheimer Emerging Markets Innovators Fund will be managed by Justin Leverenz, CFA. Justin will be supported by the broader resources of the Emerging Markets Equity Team. Heidi Heikenfeld, CFA, co-portfolio manager of the fund, is leaving the firm. We thank Heidi for her contributions and wish her well in her endeavors.

Justin took over the stewardship of Invesco Oppenheimer Developing Markets Fund in May 2007 and since then, the team has been on a journey dedicated to building compelling investment solutions and a world-class research platform. Invesco Oppenheimer Emerging Markets Innovators Fund was designed to be a complement to large-cap focused emerging market equity funds many investors already hold and was conceived with the thesis that an increasingly large number of attractive growth opportunities in the emerging markets are found in the small- and mid-cap universe. This change further aligns Invesco Oppenheimer Emerging Markets Innovators Fund with the same investment approach that has been employed managing the successful Invesco Oppenheimer Developing Markets Fund. The research team will be fully integrated across both strategies and will be driven by the same proven investment process. We believe this change will facilitate the team's collaborative culture, create continuity in research efforts, and help drive superior results.

On behalf of Invesco, we would like to thank you for investing your clients' assets with us. We have built a business focused on meeting the needs of our investors and their financial advisors.
